

WALTON | HALL

AYLESBURY

Free open day 4th September
2021

Please join us for free activities and trial classes at Walton Hall, Walton Street, Aylesbury.

Built in 1859, Walton Hall began life as a school to support and educate local children. This history remains in the official name of the trust that runs the hall – Walton Holy Trinity National School. Although linked to the Church, the two are independent.

The school may have stopped, but the hall continued to be used by the church and by the local community. In the early 1960s Walton Hall became a music venue – Rock with the Stars, every Saturday, with bands such as The Stranglers, Ricky Valance and the Cruisers, and The Federals, performing.

The Hall is now used and enjoyed by hundreds of people every week for dance and theatre classes, exercise classes, support groups, educational groups, a cinema, and more.
